TAFT IS SAID TO CHERISH
DESIRE TO BE PRESIDENT

Speaker Cannon Would Also Like to Go Up, and Fairbanks and Secretary Shaw
Both Have the Bee.

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—Keen rivalry for stumping honors promises to figure in the political tours of several presidential aspirants during the coming autumn. Three, perhaps four, eminent Republicans are now studying out their lines of argument for all of them—Secretaries Shaw and Taft, Speaker Cannon and Vice-President Fairbanks will be in harness as soon as the campaign begins. All of them now have speaking dates ahead and nearly every mail brings more requests. Later on the congressional committee will have something to say about where they can employ their talents most effectively.

The eyes of the other three are much upon Secretary Taft, who has just returned from Boston and who goes in a few days to speak before the Republican state convention in North Carolina. One of his rivals for the presidency, if indeed Secretary Taft cherishes such an ambition in the face of an offer to go upon the Supreme bench, recently held in hand here a newspaper clipping of the Secretary's speech at Yale college. He pointed particularly to that paragraph where the Secretary advised poor men to abstain from carrying their litigation to the Supreme Court, as rich men generally fared better in appealing to the courts of last resort. "That doesn't read to me like a man who is going on the Supreme bench," said this presidential aspirant. "It reads like a man who is going into politics and wants to win the presidency. You know his family is anxious for him to make the trial. They are willing also to supply him with the money for his presidential expenses."

In going to North Carolina Mr. Taft will follow in the footsteps of other men who would like to succeed Roosevelt. Vice-President Fairbanks went to Greensborough, March 22 of last year, and spoke at a notable banquet of tarheel Republicans. The speech was proclaimed as of no political significance with regard to Mr. Fairbanks' future, but the politicians did not interpret it that way. A few months afterward Secretary Shaw was invited to Greensborough, which is a big manufacturing city and also a kind of headquarters for North Carolina Republicans. He spoke before the Chamber of Commerce and, like Vice-President Fairbanks, made a very favorable impression. They asked him to attend the convention along with Secretary Taft, but he declined.

Many think Secretary Taft will "try out" the popular sentiment for himself during the summer and autumn, by which time he may be in a position to decide better whether he will go upon the bench next December. He will probably visit about every northern state east of the Mississippi river. Early in October he starts on an inspection of several brigade camps, which will take him across Kansas, in which state Vice-President Fairbanks is to make a visit this summer, and on into the new state of Oklahoma. Mr. Taft intends to speak at numerous places along his route. He also has numerous other speeches in prospect; in fact during the latter half of September and all of October will be traveling and speaking most of the time. He was active on the stump two years ago, but not so active as he plans to be this autumn, notwithstanding the opinion that has formed in some official minds that he purposes to accept the President's tender of a judicial position.

Secretary Shaw will virtually be delivering speeches all summer, prior to the political campaign. For the present he will not delve into politics much. There are bankers' conventions and other civic occasions, where his oratory is in demand. He will remain here all summer, going out every few days for a speaking tour as official business permits.

Speaker Cannon's comprehensive tour of close congressional districts was determined upon long ago. It will be primarily to help elect a Republican House of Representatives, but like the other speakers who are alluded to as of presidential size, he will be glad of the opportunity to get better acquainted with the voters of the country at large. In a private conversation here, within the last week, regarding the great struggle ahead for the Republican nomination in 1908, he declared that in the last analysis the question of the availability of the different candidates was likely to decide the convention.

The Vice-President for several years has devoted much of his spare time to speaking at public gatherings. He will follow this program during the summer, but will go into the campaign in the early autumn.

THE ADVERTISER'S
ROACH RECIPE

The Advertiser's recipe for cockroaches, which are so troublesome in the tropics, is the following, and it is guaranteed.

Equal parts of plaster of paris and confection or bar sugar, rubbed up dry and placed where the roaches can get at it.

The roaches are unable to segregate the plaster from the sugar and eat both together and turn to stone.

Roaches have been the greatest pest of the postoffices of England until a man came forward with the above recipe.

ONE SIDED FIGHT.

Any effort to decry the quality of our drugs meets with absolute failure. Ours is the stock, the best that can be obtained from the chemists of the world who will attach their names only to articles of worth. Have you ever thought of the importance of pure drugs? Consider that life hangs upon the quality, at times, of the drugs administered on a physician's prescription. Understand that anything "just as good" will not answer the purpose intended by the man whose life study has been drugs and their uses. No one knows the value of purity in this respect better than your physician. Ours is the store where substitutes are not kept, we give just what the physician calls for in his prescription, nothing more and not an atom less. Our clerks are certificated and will compound your prescriptions carefully. Remember, we do not substitute.

FLOOR TURNS ROUND

DIZZINESS COMPELS MRS. GAGNER TO QUIT WORK.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restore Her
To Perfect Health and Strength.

Mrs. Mary Gagner, of No. 576 South Summer street, Holyoke, Mass., has passed through an experience which proves that some of the greatest blessings of life may lie within easy reach and yet be found only by mere chance. A few years ago while she was employed in the mills she was suddenly seized with dizziness and great weakness. "I was so weak at times," she says, "that I could hardly stand, and my head became so dizzy that it seemed as if the floor was moving around."

"My condition at last became so bad that I was obliged to give up work in the mill, and later still I became so feeble that I could not even attend to my household duties. After the slightest exertion I had to lie down and rest until I regained strength."

"A friend who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People urged me to try them. I bought a box and began to take them. The benefit was so positive and so quickly evident that I continued to use the pills until I had taken altogether six boxes. By that time I was entirely cured, and for two years I have had no return of my trouble. I am now in the best of health and able to attend to all my duties. I am glad to acknowledge the benefit I received and I hope that my statement may be the means of inducing others who may suffer in this way to try this wonderful medicine."

The secret of the power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of debility, such as Mrs. Gagner's lies in the fact that they make new blood, and every organ and every tiny nerve in the body feels the stir of a new tide of strength. The effect is not a brief stimulation, but a steady building up of wasted tissue and a constant supply of fresh vital energy wherever it is needed until perfect conditions of health are established.

If you want good health you must have good blood. Bad blood is the root of all common disease, like anaemia, rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance, nervousness, indigestion, debility, general weakness, paralysis, locomotor ataxia and the special ailments that only women-folk know.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
